

Catholic – Armenian Ecumenical Relations

A panel discussion with

His Grace Bishop Hovakim Manukyan (Primate of the Diocese of the UK and Ireland)

Dr. Harry Hagopian (International lawyer & MENA consultant, UK)

Rev. Fr. John Whooley (Diocese of Westminster, New Southgate Parish)

Wednesday, 11th January 2017 at 7:30pm

Gulbenkian Hall, Iverna Gardens, London W8 6TP

The visit of His Holiness Pope Francis to the Mother See of Holy Etchmiadzin in June 2016 was extremely important in strengthening bilateral relations between our two Churches.

The panel will discuss the following topics:

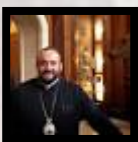

- The historical links between the Armenian Orthodox and Roman Catholic Churches
- The current developments in bilateral relations and the impact upon the lives of the faithful at a grassroots level

Dr. Harry Hagopian a lawyer who holds a Doctorate in Public International Law and an LL.M in Alternative Dispute (Conflict) Resolution. He is also Middle East Advisor for the Catholic Bishops' Conference in England & Wales and Associate of the Ekklesia think-tank

Rev. Fr. John Whooley has an MA in Eastern Christianity and worked at the Armenian Patriarchate, Istanbul from 2003-2005

His Grace Bishop Hovakim Manukyan, Primate of the Armenian Church in the UK and Republic of Ireland
